DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-10 are allowed.
2. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: claim 1, recite, inter alia, “a method of manufacturing a NAND flash memory device, comprising the steps of: providing a semiconductor substrate having a plurality of isolation films are formed in parallel to each other in the semiconductor substrate; a source select transistor having a cell source region, a plurality of memory cells having a cell impurity region and a drain select transistor having a cell drain region are serially connected and formed in each of a plurality of strings in a cell region”; in the combination with other claimed features. In addition, the benefit of forming a plurality of cells in series and in each of the plurality of strings in a cell region is to provide the larger cell current in order to access the time of the flash memory device faster, as a result, in order to improve the operating speed of the NAND flash memory device and reduce the electrical resistance of the bit lines and/or the common source lines.
3. The art of record does not disclose the above limitations, nor would it be obvious to modify the art of record so as to include the above limitations.
4. Although Sugimae et al (U.S. 2003/0151069) discloses flash memory device having memory cell array and peripheral circuit wherein the memory cell device having interlayer insulating layer 121b, etching a portion of the first interlayer insulating layer 121b to expose the cell source region 116 to form a common source line contact hole through which the semiconductor substrate is exposed (Fig. 29 of Sugimae et al), Shin et al. (2002/0081806) discloses NAND-type flash memory devices and methods of fabricating the same, Chung

(2003/0201491) discloses semiconductor device containing oxide/nitride/oxide dielectric layer and method of forming the same, and Yaegashi (2002/0100930) discloses non-volatile semiconductor memory device and method of manufacturing the same, they do not disclose the above-mentioned limitations.

5. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
